TEXAS TALK.

Judge Binckley, a Prominent Republican, in Washington-Aspirants for the United States District Judgeship at Gal-

Judge C. C. Binckley, of Sherman, Texas, one of the representative and wealthiest citizens of the northern part of that state, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest at the Riggs house. Judge Binckley is president of the First National bank of Sherdent of the First National bank of Sher-man, and is one of the largest land-holders in Texas. He is chairman of the republican state central commit-tee, and is numbered among the staunchest republicans of the state. He was chairman of the Texas delegation to the Chicago convention, and belonged to the 30s who immortalized themselves by presenting a steady front for Gen. Grant.

a steady front for Gen. Grant. Judge Binckley is here to attend to some business in the departments, and will remain for several days. He will call on the President to-day.

There are a number of gentleman from Toxas in Washington at this time, some of them interesting themselves in the appointment of a United States district judge to fill them interesting themselves in the appointment of a United States district judge to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Judge Ames Morrill, at Galveston. Among the applicants for the position are Judge C. A. Sabin, A. J. Evans, W. K. Homan, Wm. Chambers, Judge White, of Smith county, W. H. Burkhardt, and Judge Teichmuller, of Lagrange. Besides these, W. P. Ballinger, of Galveston, is urged by his friends, among them Associate Justice Miller, of the supreme court. A. J. Evans, known as "Jack" Evans in Texas, is understood to have been indorsed by the department of justice, though influential Texans are not particularly in his favor. Judge Sabin, one of the applicants, is here to present his claims. He is a brilliant lawyer and a citizen of unexceptionable record, the only argument against him being that he is "too old." He is59 years of age. A letter has been received from Judge Burkhart, another aspirant, who says that while he is a candidate he does not think it comports with the dignity of such a high judicial office to come to the national capital and personally solicit it. It is supposed the appointment will be made about the first of October.

A letter has been received from Hon. Thomas Gchiltree, saying that he will sail from Liverpool on the twenty-second instant, and that he expects to be in Washington Oct. 1.

The Street Car Strike Ended. Business was entirely suspended on the F street car line until 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the striking drivers resumed work, the matter having been amicably settled about that time. The company refused to consider any proposition unless the strikers went back to work, and when they did the five discharged men were taken back after having acknowledged that they were in the wrong. The cars are now running regularly, and the amiliar jingle of the belis is heard along the entire route. Officials of the company state that they were able at any time to man all of their cars, but that the men were afraid of being stoned and jeered at by the assembled crowds. The police were called upon to disperse the gatherings, but replied that they could not do so. Had the officers protected those who remained at work when the strike first took place from the insults, the jeers, and the threats of the strikers, there never would have been any interruption to travel upon any part of the line.

The Emigration of Children from Ireland. OTTAWA, ONT., Sept. 10 .- Rev. Father Siddons, secretary to Cardinal Mauning, today had an interview with Mr. Lowe, secretary of the department of agriculture, in reference to the emigration of children from Preland. He saked that the government allow a sum per capita for every child sent out under Cardinal Manning's direction. Mr. Lowe, it is understood, said that $2 per capita would in all probability be allowed. Six hundred children have already, through the exertions of Cardinal Manning and his secretary, found homes in Canada this season.

Attempts to Commit an Outrage Upor

His Own Daughter. John Taylor, a colored express driver, was arrested by Officer Slack last night on a warrant sworn out by his daughter charging him with threats. He was locked up at the seventh precinct station. The charge itself, while not a grave one, proved on investigawhile not a grave one, proved on investigation to be quite a serious one. A reporter was sent to the residence of the daughter, Mary Taylor, and learned that Taylor had attempted to outrage his own child. The girl stated to the reporter that the affair occurred on Saturday night. Mary and her father live on F street, near Eleventh street northeast. He returned home Saturday night under the influence of liquor, and after swearing at her a while he told her to go up stairs, and followed her. On arriving at her room he attempted to outrage her person, but she sprang out of a window to a shed and then ran to the house of a neighbor, who prosprang out of a window to a shed and thea ran to the house of a neighbor, who protected her, Her father followed and attempted to do her bodily injury. About a menth ago he made another attempt to outrage her, but she escaped. He had gotten into her bed and told her that she must be a wife as well as a dangetter to him. She into her bed and told her that she must be a wife as well as a daughter to him. She called for assistance, when he ran away. He told her that if she told anyone he would kill her. A girl named Lindsey, living in the same house, was a witness to the Saturday night affair.

Taylor stubbornly denied having made any assault on his daughter, but said that she was a bad girl.

The Hill Report.

Assistant Secretary New, as chairman of the Hill investigating committee, yesterday submitted to Secretary Felger the report of that committee, which has been in the custody of the chief clerk of the treasury department since last week. It is a voluminous document of two or three hundred pages of manuscript.

Secretary Folger said late yesterdny after-noen that he had not yet had time to examine the report, but would probably look it over to-day. Assistant Secretary Now left Washing-ton at 7:30 o'cleck last evening for Indianap-olis, to be absent several weeks.

A New Lock Proposed.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Cushing, Bates, and Somerville, chiefs of division in the internal revenue bureau, met and heard statements yesterday from a number of lock manufacturers and examined samples of their locks with a view to reporting upon a new lock to be adopted by the internal revenue bureau for use on bonded warehouses, eistern room doors in distilleries, &c., as a substitute for the Caton lock now in use. The committee will probably report this week.

The Riverdale Investigation. A letter has been received at the treasury department from Gen. Dumont, supervising inspector general of steam vessels, in which he says that the taking of testimeny in re-gard to the explosion on the Riverdale will be begun by Inspector Starbuck at New York to-morrow. Gen. Dumont expects to be back in Washington to-morrow.

DEPARTMENT DOTS.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACH.

Some Remarkable Statements as to the Way They Sive Judgments. Mrs. Elizabeth Slyer filed a petition Saturday for a certiorari to restrain Justice Hall from taking action in a laudlord and tenant She holds that she rented bouse No. case. She holds that she rented bouse No. 932 E street from Mrs. Amanda Hest; that on the thirtieth of June, 1283, a paper was left at ber house with the names of Rudolph, R. M., H. A., L. H., Thomas J., and John Johnston, who claimed that they wanted possession in thirty days. They did not state that they were the owners of the house; that on the fourth of August, 1883, a seven days notice was served on her by five of said pretended owners. A few days later she was summoned to appear hefore Wm. Helmick, justice of the peace, who continued the case. Petitioner and her lawyor were on hand and waited until after the time set, when she demanded judgment, the rule being to give defendant only fifteen minutes to appear. The motion of petitioner's counsel was overruled in violation of the rule and petitioner believes that he did so in favor of the plaintiff. She attempted to remove the case to the nearest justice. H. A. Hall was the nearest justice, but was out of the city, and Justice Taylor, who was in the city, and Justice Taylor, who was in the city, had his office near by. Justice Helmick refused to allow the case to be removed to Mr. Taylor, but held the papers for ten days until the return of his friend, H. A. Hall, before whom he knew the petitioner could not get justice. When said Hall returned, the case was called up without giving petitioner's counsel motice, and the said Hall gave judgment against her in fifteen minutes after the hour set on the testimony of Rudolph Johnston, so that when the petitioner's attorney had arrived judgment had been entered. A motion for a rehearing was served, but the said Hall would not consider it. Fearing, however, that he would be punished by the supreme court, he finally granted the motion, and set the case for hearing. The petitioner was present at the next hearing, and called the said Hall's attention to a protest against his trying the case. The said Rudolph Johnson was sworn and testified, but could prove no title to the property which he claimed.
